

つづく

Goku's Adventures in the Planet of Surprises

This hypothetical story took place on the planet of surprises several years after Goku landed from the planet "Action". After several days of Goku suffering from severe toothache and after he confirmed that the pain was not temporary or incidental, but rather required an attempt to quickly communicate with a specialist doctor, especially since there were two days left until the vacation, during which there might not be specialist dentists available, in addition to the fact that Goku was in the final stages of preparing to obtain the Grand Master degree in martial arts, and here we will go directly into the details.

It was past eleven o'clock in the evening, Goku stood in front of a sign of a dental clinic near his place of residence and made a phone call to the phone number registered on the sign but no one answered the phone, Goku then walked towards his place of residence and while he was walking he received a phone call from another number and on the line was a person claiming to be a dentist and that the clinic was closed for that day and would only work one day before the vacation that lasted a whole week, here Goku explained his condition to the doctor and that it was an urgent emergency case so the doctor asked Goku about the symptoms he was suffering from and then gave him detailed advice on how to temporarily relieve toothache in terms of medications and home remedies and other specialized information, and explained to him the possibility of treating the damaged molar in one session at the clinic, whether treating it or removing it, and accordingly Goku asked the doctor about the time of his presence the next day in the clinic and whether it was possible to make an appointment at the clinic, so the doctor informed him that tomorrow is the last working day for the clinic before the vacation and that he has pressure with the number of patients but Considering Goku's condition, he can make an appointment for him, provided that Goku makes the reservation immediately by transferring an amount of money to guarantee an appointment at the clinic, otherwise the reservation may be lost. Here, Goku asked the doctor about how to make the reservation, so the doctor told him to write down Nappa's phone number and then transfer a specific amount of money to this number via one of the payment methods. Here, Goku informed the doctor that he might not have a means of transfer at this late hour and tried to agree with him on the reservation upon his arrival at the clinic, but the doctor apologized for the matter and informed Goku that the only way to confirm the reservation for tomorrow (the penultimate day of the vacation) is by transferring the amount, and as soon as the amount is received by his assistants and he is informed of the matter, the reservation will be made. After that, the doctor wished Goku safety and informed him that he helps many people, especially those coming from outside the (Planet of Surprises), taking into consideration their situation and circumstances, and then the call was ended. Here, Goku hesitated about transferring the amount, as the matter remained somewhat doubtful, but at the same time, Goku received a phone call directly after calling the clinic number and then the person he spoke to who had specialized information about dental diseases and their treatment, and this information indicated that the person was a specialist doctor, in addition to Goku's advanced state of pain that left him no other choice, as the clinic was the closest to his place of residence and this was his chance that might be the only one to treat or relieve his illness, even temporarily, before the vacation. While Goku was thinking about the matter, he was surprised by the arrival of a message to his phone from the same number (Nappa's number) that the doctor had provided him with, and the message stated that the reservation amount could be transferred to the same number and that the reservation date would be set. Accordingly, Goku's doubts were reduced and he searched for a place to transfer the reservation amount, then sent a picture of the transfer to "Nappa's" number, so "Nappa" responded to him with a message of thanks and that the reservation had been made and that they hoped to live up to Goku's expectations of them. Here, Goku thanked "Nappa" and then headed home to take teeth painkillers that no longer seem to respond even to medications.

The next day, Goku went to the clinic at the appointed time and was received at the clinic by the nurse (Android 18) who asked him to fill out a special patient form and then asked him to pay an amount of money for the medical examination. Here, Goku informed the nurse that he had made a reservation the day before through the money transfer service to a number provided by the doctor. However, the nurse informed Goku that they receive money transfers through means other than the one he had made the transfer through. Then, she pointed to a sign (explaining the methods and means of transferring money to the clinic) that was stuck on the wall directly in front of her. Then, the nurse asked Goku to call again on the clinic number (on the sign) that was with her and not with the doctor. Then, the nurse entered an adjacent room to talk on the phone with the doctor in charge of the clinic. After that, she went out and informed Goku that there was no reservation in his name! Here, Goku informed her that after he called the clinic number the previous night, his call was not answered. Minutes later, another number called him, indicating that he was a dental doctor.... and explained the whole story to her. The nurse asked Goku to provide her with a copy of the message in which the transfer was made and the number to which it was transferred, and then asked Goku to wait so she could send a copy of the message and the number to which it was transferred, as well as Goku's number, to the doctor in charge of the clinic. Minutes later, Goku received a call on his phone from a number indicating that he was Dr. Frieza, the doctor in charge of the clinic, and that Goku might have been scammed by people (Cell and Nappa) who had previously scammed other patients. The doctor also indicated that he was not concerned with the matter and that Goku should leave the clinic and contact the people who had scammed him directly and demand money from them. Here, a verbal altercation occurred on the phone between Dr. Frieza and Goku, and the doctor told Goku to end the call so that he (Frieza) could try to reconnect with the number to which the money was transferred (Nappa). Goku ended the call and waited in the clinic in shock at what was happening. Several minutes passed during which Goku asked the nurse (Android 18) about the doctor's appointment and whether he would come to the clinic or not, to be informed by the nurse that he usually comes to the clinic at this time but was late today and unusually, and here Goku received a call from Doctor Frieza who informed Goku that he would put him on the line directly with the owner of the number to which the money was transferred (Nappa), and here the doctor asked Goku several direct questions to Goku that he (i.e. Goku) transferring the money to "Nappa's" phone number at the request of another person (the fake doctor "Cell"), then the doctor asked Nappa about what happened, to be indicated by Nappa that (Goku) seems to be a good person and may have fallen for his good intentions and that he will return the amount to him but after the vacation, and here the discussion continued between Doctor Frieza and Nappa within hearing of (Goku) where the two indicated that (Goku) is a respectable person and does not deserve what happened to him and that he made a mistake when he transferred the money without verifying the identity of the people to whom the transfer would be made, and accordingly Nappa suggested to doctor Frieza that he provide a free consultation To (Goku) for the amount he transferred, and accordingly, doctor Frieza asked Nappa about his place of residence and that he could return the amount to someone he knows there. After that, doctor Frieza completed the call with (Goku), who asked the doctor about the time of his arrival at the clinic and informed him that he would wait for him to meet him personally, and then the call ended.

Here, Goku's suspicions increased that he had fallen victim to a group of thieves, namely the clinic doctor "Frieza" and the fake doctor "Cell" who had called him yesterday and a third person, "Nappa" (or he himself is the fake doctor) who sent him a message with the details of the transfer and the appointment date. After Goku waited for several more minutes, Doctor Frieza arrived at the clinic. As soon as the doctor entered the clinic, he immediately began speaking in a tone of blame and criticism to Goku, who remained silent and stared at the doctor with an investigative and scrutinizing look in an attempt to confirm his suspicions once and for all. After that, Goku calmly interrupted the doctor's critical talk to ask him: Are you Doctor Frieza? Here, the doctor answered: Yes, I am. Then, Doctor Frieza took a pack of cigarettes out of his pocket and indicated to Goku that he wanted to smoke a cigarette outside the reception room in the clinic (away from the nurse and cameras) and that he wanted to talk about the matter at the inner door of the clinic. Accordingly, the doctor and Goku left the reception room and here the doctor offered a cigarette to (Goku) who apologized that he had stopped smoking, then the doctor asked (Goku) to provide him with the number of the person (the fake doctor "Cell") who spoke to him yesterday and called him directly (and turned on the voice) and asked about his identity and explained to him what happened to (Goku) the previous day, and here the fake doctor "Cell" (the same voice of the person who Goku spoke to yesterday) indicated that one of his relatives was playing with the phone and calling random numbers and then happened to call (Goku's) phone number to play the role of the dentist, and here the two (Frieza and Cell) agreed to try to solve the issue considering that (Goku) fell victim to his good intentions and severe pain and then the call was ended. Doctor Frieza returned to blame Goku, who responded by asking Doctor Frieza about his reaction if he were in his place and whether he would be convinced that everything that happens is a coincidence. Here, Doctor Frieza replied (in a threatening tone and to try to dissuade Goku from making a big deal out of it) that he had recorded all the calls with Goku, the fake doctor "Cell", and the third person "Nappa", and that we are dealing with laws here, not with personal estimates and intuition, and that he could simply tell Goku: You have nothing with me, get out of here. Here, Goku realized that he was facing an organized and professional group of thieves, and that the person standing in front of him might be involved in organ and human trafficking, and there was certainly no chance for Goku to accept the free consultation, which might be his last in this life. Goku also realized that the risks of continuing to demand the amount had become much greater than leaving this amount, and that it was better to immediately get away from these thieves. Here, Doctor Frieza returned to blame Goku again and that he was a victim, so Goku asked the doctor about the extent of his knowledge and connection to the fake doctor "Cell" and the third person "Nappa" (especially after hearing the friendly and previously agreed upon conversations between them), but Doctor Frieza denied any knowledge or connection to them and returned to remind Goku that he could tell him: You have nothing with me, get out of here. Here, Goku had nothing left but to ask Doctor Frieza to say the sentence to end the matter, and here Doctor Frieza replied: You have nothing with me, get out of here. Goku immediately walked away from the clinic, and Doctor Frieza began calling him to try to dissuade him from leaving: "Okay, brother, my friend, come back so we can resolve the matter with understanding), but Goku continued walking to be immediately surprised by the arrival of a message from "Nappa" stating: "We apologize for the unintended mistake." Goku continued walking away from the clinic in a state of shock and pain from what had happened.

Bottom line:

-Do not transfer any money "under any circumstances", even if it is small, to any party you do not know very well.

-Do not wait for any problem or pain for long, try to solve it quickly before it spreads.

Dear reader, if you find this content useful, please consider supporting us by choosing any of the following means of support, in accordance with your capabilities:

1-Sharing this article.

2-Buying my book: "Introduction to Balance Theory".

3-Support us directly through the following page:

Support Us

4-Review our services through the following page:

Our Services

THANK YOU
for your support